Portfolio comments for February

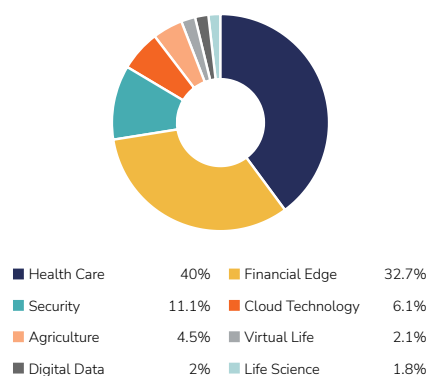

February was a month on two halves for equity markets. Mixed earnings of major global companies for 4Q22 were offset by expectations of improving efficiency in 2023, which supported the equity markets till mid-Feb. Inflation related data that came above expectations cooled equities. Net-net S&P 500 lost 2.5% MoM (here and later - total return), along with MSCI World and NASDAQ 100 which depreciated by 2.4% and 0.4% respectively.

The Fund lost 3.1% MoM with month-end net exposure of 90.4% of NAV. Top-3 themes were Health Care (40.0% NAV), Financial Edge (32.7%) and Security (11.1%). Top-3 MTD performance contributors were Northrop Grumman (+0.2%), Lockheed Martin (+0.1%) and JPMorgan Chase (+0.1%). Top-3 performance detractors were Cigna (-0.6%), Johnson & Johnson (-0.5%) and instruments linked to SPDR S&P 500 (-0.4%). End of February aggregate score of companies in portfolio based on proprietary ranking system of 10 factors and 100 sub-factors (101 for banks) is 7.1/10 on the long side and 6.5/10 on the short side.

Risk Factors

- Equity Risk: Investing in equity shares means taking a stake in the performance of that company, participating in the profits it generates by way of dividends and any increase in its value by way of a rise in its share price. However, such equity shares may also depreciate in value and lead to substantial losses of up to the total amount invested should an underlying company file for bankruptcy.
- Currency Risk: The Fund may have multiple non-US Dollar currency exposures and such exposures will be unhedged. These nonUSD currencies may depreciate against the US Dollar and lead to losses.
- For a more detailed explanation of risks, please refer to the "Risk Factors" section of the Prospectus and Supplement.
